Business is Personal

As an HR professional, you have a lot on your plate: higher program costs and greater demands for ROI; more regulations to comply with; and the ongoing struggle to attract and retain top talent. These issues don't affect just your business or your employees. They touch you, your reputation and your peace of mind. You're charged with making quick decisions, but the ever-shifting landscape can make that challenging.

The last thing you need is to juggle more uncertainty.

At Buck, we find answers to tough problems in the areas of employee benefits, HR operations and talent strategy. We consult on a full range of compensation and benefits programs intended to attract, motivate, reward and retain talented employees. We help clients around the world develop and implement an effective HR strategy.

What's more, we keep things personal. No shuffling your work off to a backroom team that adds your tasks to a growing checklist. The person you engage is the person doing the work. From our first meeting, we make the effort to understand what drives your success, and that becomes the basis for solving your unique problems.

From World War I to the World Wide Web — that's the span of our history. In that time, the issues confronting organizations have changed. Our innovative spirit and pioneering solutions continue to help businesses stay ahead of those changes. Through it all, our commitment to our clients remains the same.

Because, like you, we know business is personal.
